The screenshot shows a web browser window with several tabs open: 'MFS Login Page', 'IE add-ons for chrome - G...', 'IE Tab - Chrome Web Sto...', and 'IE Tab Documentation - IE X'. The address bar shows the URL 'www.ietab.net/ie-tab-documentation?fr=v1'. The website header features the 'IE Tab' logo and navigation links for 'Home', 'Docs', 'Pricing', 'Support', and 'Blog'. A large blue banner with the word 'Documentation' is visible. A callout box with a red border and a white background points to the IE Tab icon in the browser's address bar. The text inside the callout box reads: 'This icon will be shown after installation has been completed to open the Google Chrome page in IE Environment'. Below the banner, the page is divided into sections. The 'GETTING STARTED' section includes a 'Start Download' button with a right-pointing arrow and a list of steps: '1. Click to Begin 2. Download App 3. Get Free Maps & Directions'. Below this is the 'Install IE Tab from the Chrome Web Store' section, which contains the text: 'Once it's installed, you should see the IE Tab icon to the right of the Chrome address bar. Now navigate to any page and click on the IE Tab icon to open the page with the IE rendering engine. That's it!'. The 'AUTO URLS' section follows, starting with the text: 'Right-click on the IE Tab icon and select "Options" to see all of the options, including the Auto URLs. Auto URLs are one of the most important features of IE Tab. You typically need IE Tab for just a subset of the web pages you visit. For example, you might want to use IE Tab for all of your Microsoft Sharepoint pages. Auto URLs enable you to specify which pages should be opened in IE Tab automatically so you don't have to click on the IE Tab icon. Auto URLs are specified as a filter string in one of two ways:'. A left-hand navigation menu contains links for 'Getting Started', 'Auto URLs', 'Other Options', and 'Deployment', each with a right-pointing arrow. Under 'Deployment', there are sub-links for 'The Extension', 'IE Tab Helper', and 'GPO Settings'.
